

A woman with long, light brown hair and blue eyes is standing in a doorway at night. She is wearing a thick, white, textured knit sweater and light blue jeans. She is looking back over her shoulder towards the camera. The doorway has a wooden frame with a brass handle and a small plaque that says "PULL". The background is dark, suggesting an interior space.

New York City, Grand Central Station

The day after Labor Day marks the first day of fall in our books, which means we can finally say fall is here. There's nothing better than a fuzzy knit to keep you cozy and help you to get through the cold days with a cup of coffee. Without the perfect knitwear to keep you comfortable the fall winter season isn't complete. The collection includes classic and trends: Our classic knitwear are timeless and will forever remain icons of our brand and newcomers such as Catia pullover hits spot on for the new season.

M

Milana was designed in Copenhagen, July 2019 to create a timeless pullover made of the finest Italian mohair for anyone and everyone. It took six months to develop the right knit composition and adjustments for the perfect fit. Finally, Milana was ready to be rolled out in Scandinavian retail stores.

Our iconic Milana mohair knit is made of 78% mohair, 18% polyamide and 4% wool. The fit is oversized and the knitting has popular hand-knitted look that makes it both stylish and comfortable.

The pullover never goes out of style. Our idea was to create an all-time classic that would fit everyone's wardrobe and be worn almost all year round. With its loose, knit fit, "The Pullover" is a popular garment from winter to summer. The design has been made to fit every kind of woman of all ages. As seen all over the world from Norway to Japan, "The Pullover" has marked Americandreams' identity and is available in boutiques and stores from physical to online.

Pepper Roll Neck

In the New York City subway, Midtown Manhattan between Madison and Lexington Avenues our colourful pullovers were shot on a Friday afternoon in September.

The bright colours of the pullovers are lightening up in the rainy and stormy weather. Coral red, jade green, sky blue, pearly purple are all some of our "happy" colours that will shine in even the darkest and coldest days.

The fall winter 23 season calls for oversized pullovers that will keep you warm and cover you up for a fuzzy and homey feeling. Our mission is to make knitwear that make you feel like home. Pepper has been made for the lazy days when you don't know what to wear and may not be in the mood for styling a complex outfit. Pepper is the go-to pullover in an oversized fit that can easily be pulled over any dress and any kind of pant.
